Two Day Workshop - Sexual Trauma in Adolescence and Emerging Adulthood - In association with One in Four

The adolescent's journey is from embeddedness within a family system and an introjected sense of self towards ownership of her life and appreciation of her unique place in the world. This culminates in a sense of personal agency and an essential security in who she is.

Presenter: Bronagh Starrs, BA, Dip. Psychotherapy, is Director of Blackfort Adolescent Gestalt Institute and principal faculty on the post-graduate Diploma in Adolescent Psychotherapy which has been offered in Ireland since 2012. Bronagh is an adolescent developmental specialist working in Northern Ireland with children, adolescents and their families. She also teaches and presents internationally and has authored many articles and chapters on the subject.

Date: Saturday 26th and Sunday 27th September 2015

Venue: Carmelite Community Centre, 56 Aungier Street, Dublin 2
