Call for Volunteers – National Ploughing Championships

As part of the ongoing campaign to raise awareness of Counselling and Psychotherapy, the IACP will be attending the National Ploughing Championships in September.

We are contacting you today to request your assistance with the operation of the IACP stand. This event takes place in Ratheniska, Co Laois and is attended by tens of thousands of people every year, thereby presenting a great opportunity to raise awareness about the IACP, its work and services.

Each day we will require a number of volunteers to assist with various tasks including:

- Providing information about Therapy to the public
- Distributing leaflets
- General tasks

The event will be open from 9am to 6pm each day. We are looking for members to volunteer for approximately 4.5 hours at a time. Please see the requested dates and times below:

Tuesday 23rd September:

9.00am – 1.30pm (3 persons required)

1.30pm – 6.00pm (3 persons required)

Wednesday 24th September:

12.00pm – 3.00pm (3 persons required)

3.00pm – 6.00pm (3 persons required)

Thursday 25th September:

12.00pm – 3.00pm (3 persons required)

3.00pm – 6.00pm (3 persons required)

Please carefully note the following:

The person to contact, if you are interested in volunteering, is Richard Brophy from O'Herlihey Communications.

Please email him at Rbrophy@ohcpr.ie or phone 01 660 2744 if you are willing to help out along with your preferred day and time (e.g. Tuesday from 9am – 1.30pm).

Thank you for your attention and we look forward to hearing from you.
